

LIST OF THESES AND DISSERTATIONS HELD BY THE FEMINIST ARCHIVE NORTH

The following theses and dissertations are available for consultation in the Special Collections department of Leeds University Library. If you wish to make an appointment, please either telephone 0113 3435518, or send an email to special-collections@library.leeds.ac.uk. The material is not available for loan and is subject to the usual copyright restrictions.

Name	Title	Year	Classification	University
Adilman, T.L.	Women killed by men known to them.	1985	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Asgari-Tourzan, S.	Feminist forms of organisation - does Gingerbread fit the models?	1985	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Forrest, L.	The impact of gender on the lives of adolescent school girls: a case study.	1985	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Slater, S.	Why text books are still sexist: writers' and publishers' reactions to an anlysis of gender messages in English as a second language.	1985	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Stead, M.P.	The situation of women in Nicaragua (1984).	1985	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Cross, E.A.	Changing attitudes through classroom intervention: a research project.	1986	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Foster, R.E.	Women in old age: 'living' choices from a feminist perspective.	1986	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Hayden, V.L.	Positive action in management education and its role in the development of female managers in the UK.	1986	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Jazdowska, M.	Rhetoric, reality, and the position of women in selected developing socialist countries.	1986	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Morris, C.H.	How the youth service fails adolescent girls - a case of sex dsicrimination.	1986	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Rayner, C.M.	Exposing the myth of female inferiority in spatial ability: a pilot study.	1986	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Wright, J.M.	Labour Party women: Patterns of participation in West Yorkshire in the 1980s	1986	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Collier, P.	Resource allocation in special education: an examination of the disproportionately high take-up of provision of boys.	1987	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Harrison, M.	The significance of domestic work in the 1987 lives of two rural women (1916-1986): an oral history study.	1987	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Kilminster, S.M.	The wilder shores of heterosexism; health and sex education in schools: implications for practice.	1987	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Leather, E.	The effect of gender on the provision of physical education in middle schools in Bradford.	1987	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Rye, S.	Women and part time work: an examination of women's role as part timers with particular reference to the position of Bradford Council's low paid, part time women workers.	1987	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford

Slater, Y.M.C.	An expository analysis of "Just Seventeen" magazine.	1987	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Walker, K.	Fit to mother? An examination of characteristics required of foster mothers in a Northern S.S.D.	1987	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Carabine, J.	Guardians of civil liberties or mirror of homophobic society?: Two newspaper representations of political campaigns against Section 28 of the Local Government Act (1988) during the period: 1st December 1987 - 31st May 1988.	1988	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Cole, P.	Special educational provision: access to and experience of short courses for women at a northern college.	1988	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Coulthard, J.	Adult educators' perceptions of women's needs in adult education: a study of Leeds LEA continuing education service.	1988	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Deepwell, S.H.	Anti-semitism and feminism.	1988	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Harland, A.S.	Feminist therapy: a discussion of the work of feminist therapists and the problems and issues which are explored by women clients in therapy.	1988	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Langrish, H.G.	How teenage girls see their futures:- A survey of two groups of third year secondary school girls in Manchester with one group attending a single sex school and one a mixed school.	1988	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Rees, J.	Denaturalising care: a study of the personal and social forces which govern a woman's care-giving role in society.	1988	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Adams, C.	Young women and the informal economy.	1989	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Casey, M.	The body as a site of resistance: an analysis of fat-hatred and the case for feminist fat liberation.	1989	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Duffin, P.	The construction of meaning: editing a book of writing about child sexual abuse.	1989	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Hall, J.	Women counsellors and therapists: an evaluation of a series of discussion groups held at the women's counselling and therapy service, Leeds January-May 1989.	1989	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Sabina, M.	Assertiveness training for women in Britain in the 1980's - an analysis of its limitations.	1989	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Swift, K.M.	Coal and 'class machismo': a critical review of the place of women in selected marxist and socialist-feminist accounts of mining and its social relations.	1989	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Wynne, J.L.	Victim and offender mediation and reparation: a feminist critique.	1989	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Bergin, S.M.	Sharing thoughts': a women-centred approach to 'communication skills' in adult basic education.	1990	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Griffin, L.A.	Social work responses to women with alcohol problems.	1990	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Lee-Cunin, M.	Children of Seacole: an analysis of black nurses in West Yorkshire.	1990	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford

Naudi, M.	Towards a phenomenology of catholic womanhood: a look at some of the effects of a catholic upbringing on women.	1990	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Virdee, R.	The introduction of a career break scheme - a survey of female employees moving in and out of the workforce within one department in the duration of one month in Manchester council.	1990	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Carter, J.L	Women machinists in the clothing factories of Nantwich, Cheshire, 1925-1965.	1991	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Montague, J.	The place of feminist theory in sociology.	1991	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Novakovic, Y.J.H.	Why do women have children?	1991	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Nyondo, A.H.	Female genital mutilation: the control of women's sexuality case study of Tanzania and Sumalia.	1991	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Payne, J.N.	Women, social work and residential services: a feminist analysis of a northern local authority	1991	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Rigby, P.M.	The troubles: to what extent are they the motivation for migration? Northern Irish women to London 1968-1989.	1991	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Wild, J.	Drugs education strategy in the Metropolitan Borough of Bury: a study of girls who participated in the youth and community services.	1991	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Bello-Fadaka, I.O.	Women counselling: a survey of the problems explored by women counsellors/therapists.	1992	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Birules, R.	Engendering poverty: an application of the British feminist critique of mainstream research on poverty to two Catalan studies.	1992	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Downing, E.M.	Women and debt: advising women on debt.	1990	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Hunter, M.	Women's attitudes to returning to education as a means of self-improvement and employment opportunity.	1992	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Kingston, S.L.	Effects on part-time women youth workers of changes in the employment conditions of part-time workers in Derbyshire County Council.	1992	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Marsden, L.	An examination of the sexual division of labour: the case of the petrol station.	1992	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Percival, L.W.	Women and the impact of liberal and gendered definitions of citizenship: social contract to social charter.	1992	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Routh, J.O.	Women managers: training and job prospects: a study in Skipton.	1992	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Swire, L.	Sexism, sexuality and social control: a case study in education.	1992	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Baylis, G.	Sexuality in an organizational setting: the oppressions and pleasures in Lloyds of London: a male-dominated institution.	1993	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Bland, P.J.	Problems in relations between women: a feminist object relational account.	1993	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford

Franks, M.C.	Sites of resistance: an analysis of obstacles to an attempted application of feminist practice in mental health day care.	1993	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Griffiths, S.	Domestic homicide: an examination of gender ideologies in the defence of provocation.	1993	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Johnson, L.	Gendered bodies: location and control of the female body by specific sport practices; sex testing, non-prohibition of oestrogenic substances, and prohibition of androgenic substances.	1993	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Rooks, A.S.	A study of gender and sexuality in a hotel environment.	1993	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Scott, A.	The 'religion of nature': feminist phrenology and mesmerism in the early Victorian era.	1993	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Sherriff-Hammond, F.	The voluntary work of women in the public sphere. Barnsley - the case study.	1993	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Stevens, P.A.	Women's responses to the use of pornography.	1993	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Wrigley, K.D.	Why are women deterred from information technology as a career and what can be done to remedy this?	1993	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Barn, G.I.A.	Who's abusing who? - Is there a backlash against the feminist approach to child sexual abuse.'	1994	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Blackman, P.J.M.	Women and food.	1994	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Boyle, K.E.	Women, violence and television: a feminist critique and alternative analyst	1994	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Brazil, D.G.	An exploration of identities: feminist and Jewish.	1994	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Elleschild, L.	Bad girls and excessive women: the social construction of the 'promiscuous' woman.	1994	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Hawthorne, E.C.	Wholesale health: a discussion of why some women become involved in holistic health practices.	1994	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Mackenzie, J.	An exploration of the work experiences of enrolled nurses.	1994	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Pellett, L.	Gender relations in the construction industry. What are the implications of National and European policies for women's equal access to training in the construction industry?	1994	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Quaid, S.A.	An examination of the differential credibility of women and men as defendants in the courts of England and Wales, specifically in cases of domestic homicide.	1994	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Rajasooriya, S.B.	Black, Asian and migrant women sex workers in Germany: how AGISRA responds in their work around prostitution and racial stereotypes of black women.	1994	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Richardson, A.E.	The de-gaying of HIV/AIDS: are AIDS organisations accessible to women?	1994	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Roberts, B.	Measuring the impact of unemployment on women's participation in the labour market across ethnic groups in Britain.	1994	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford

Almack, K.M.	The social and political implications of donor and self insemination used by lesbians, bisexual women and single women, examining the challenge to patriarchy and patriarchal response.	1995	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Greenan, J.F.	Wellbeing, strain and distress: how secretaries feel at work.	1995	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Hayler, A.L.	A woman's right? English feminism & the politics of fertility control 1880-1939.	1995	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Henderson, J.N.	Environmentalism, are women's attitudes and concerns different from those of men?	1995	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Hirabayashi, K	Equal employment law in Japan and its effect on women.	1995	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Peasgood, N,	Women watching men watching women: a feminist analysis of the female spectator.	1995	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Prendergast, Y.	Irish women in Britain: creating knowledge, constructing identity.	1995	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Sharp, R.	Childcare and the labour market: mother's experiences in Britain.	1995	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Wisher, J.C.	The dynamics of interviewing known violent men. (A pilot study).	1995	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Byatt, M.	The "truth" is not out there: some considerations of the value of discourse analysis to feminism.	1996	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Cracknell, L.	The interconnections between the oppression of women and the oppression of animals: why animal liberation is a feminist issue.	1996	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Wright, D.C.	Playwork:- a gendered perspective.	1996	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Essien, K.A.	Lesbian mothers: an examination of parenting in the 1990s.	1997	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Storie, P.	Feminism and homeopathy: a discussion of ways in which homeopathy constitutes an alternative way of understanding health and the body which is resistant to the normalising, excluding, subordinating, and policing function of allopathy.	1997	Masters in women's studies (applied)	Bradford
Barker, K.E.	An investigation into domestic violence and mental health service.	2000	Master in Violence, Abuse and Gender Relations.	Leeds Metropolitan
Cotgrave, C.	Gender differences between Italian and British experiences and perceptions of sexual harassment.	2000	Master in Violence, Abuse and Gender Relations.	Leeds Metropolitan
Dewey, C.	An evaluation of the effectiveness of a groupwork programme for perpetrators convicted of a domestic violence offence.	2000	Master in Violence, Abuse and Gender Relations.	Leeds Metropolitan
Ibrahim, M.	A study of feminist activism at Aldermaston Atomic Weapons establishment.	2000	Master in Violence, Abuse and Gender Relations.	Leeds Metropolitan
Koghcyllaki, M.	"An exploratory study on emotional abuse in civilian and military couples." A comparative approach to the phenomenon of emotional abuse, through a feminist perspective, in 2000s Crete.	2000	Master in Violence, Abuse and Gender Relations.	Leeds Metropolitan

Possingham, S.	Local authority and Women's Aid management responses to changing funding regimes 1985 to 1998.	2000	Master in Violence, Abuse and Gender Relations.	Leeds Metropolitan
Rowell, C.	Closed eyes, covered ears, silenced women, inevitable consequences? Women on probation and their experiences of violence and abuse.	2000	Master in Violence, Abuse and Gender Relations.	Leeds Metropolitan
Curteis, S.	Surviving Rape and Seeking Justice.	1995	BA Honours in interdisciplinary Human Studies	Bradford
Russell, J.	Social Control of Lesbianism: a comparative ethnography of an active group and a covert group of Adelaide lesbians.	1981	BA in the School of Social Sciences.	Flinders University, South Australia.
Turner, A. M.	Feminist Resistance: An Oral History of the Dworkin - MacKinnon Anti-Pornography Civil Rights Ordinance.	1997	Bachelor of Arts	Kalamazoo College
Minshall, R.C.	The training of teachers to identify and respond to child sexual abuse in four case study areas (1989-92).	1996	Doctor of Philosophy.	London Institute of Education.
Price, A.	Classroom interaction, pupil and teacher strategy and gender inequality. A study of classroom behaviour in two coeducational secondary schools to examine how gender inequality and its effects are reproduced, managed and challenged.	1991	MPhil Applied Social Sciences.	Bradford
Price, A.	Appendices to: classroom interaction, pupil and teacher strategies and gender inequality.	1991
Radford, L. M. T.	The law and domestic violence against women. The history of law reforms in relation to domestic violence against women from the eighteenth to the twentieth century and an analysis of women victims' needs in contemporary socio-legal discourse. Part II The Representation of Women Victims' Needs in Socio-legal Discourse	1988	Degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Applied Social Sciences.	Bradford
Smale, O.M.	Women's breast-feeding: an analysis of women's contacts with a National Childbirth Trust breastfeeding counsellor in England, 1979 - 1989.	1996	Doctor of Philosophy. Department of Applied Social Sciences.	Bradford